TAO TE CHING

By Lao Tzu

Translated by Jonathan Star

Verse 66

Why do the hundred rivers turn and rush toward the sea?
Because it naturally stays below them
She who wishes to rule over people must speak as if below them
She who wishes to lead the people must walk as if behind them
So the Sage rules over the people but she does not weigh them down
She leads the people but she does not block their way
The Sage stays low so the world never tires of exalting her
She remains a servant so the world never tires of making her its queen
